

Joel A. Kopp

Joel A. Kopp is a career diplomat with thirteen years' experience in the U.S. Department of State's Foreign Service handling a wide range of economic and policy issues. He currently holds the trade and investment portfolio within the Economic Affairs section of the U.S. Embassy in Abuja. Joel has also served at the U.S. Embassy in Jakarta, Indonesia; the U.S. Consulate General in Monterrey, Mexico; and in Washington D.C., where he served in the State Department's Bureau of Economic and Business Affairs and in the Bureau of International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs. He has a personal rank of First Secretary.

Prior to joining the Foreign Service, Joel worked as an environmental project contractor for BP Alaska, as a Graduate Fellow at the Smithsonian Environmental Research Center in Maryland, and as an environmental research projects manager for the Prince William Sound Regional Citizens' Advisory Council in Valdez, Alaska. He has a policy master's degree from the University of Washington in Seattle, and a bachelor's degree in business management from the University of Alaska in Anchorage.

Joel is a native Alaskan and former fishing boat captain. He and his wife Virginia have three grown sons.
