

West African Health expo and Anadach Group to first health industry job fair in the country

The Anadach Group in collaboration with Global Health Resources the organizers of WAH Expo will host the first Nigerian health industry job fair at the West African Health International Medical and Pharmaceutical Exhibition and Conference (WAH Expo) which will be held at the New Convention Centre, Eko Hotels & Suites Victoria Island, Lagos, Nigeria from the 10th – 12th September, 2013 in September.

The WAH Expo 2013 will host more than 150 exhibitors from the sub-region and globally and will receive thousands of visitors including manufacturers, wholesalers, major suppliers, non-governmental organizations, developmental partners, banks and healthcare investors.. The last event had over 6000 visitors, and more are expected at this event.

The job fair, which is free of charge, will run concurrently with the WAH Expo with guest speakers addressing both key employer and employee issues. Presentations included in the job fair would include Looking for a job in the Health Care Sector: Tips for Resume Preparation, Application and Interviewing by seasoned industry professionals including Dr Enoma Alade, Partner Anadach Group and a keynote speech by Dr Pamela Ajayi, CEO Pathcare on Developing and Managing your Career in the Health Care Sector: Advice from management's perspective.

The job fair will provide employers efficient opportunity to review a significant number of job applicants and interview them at limited cost, while promoting themselves as a desirable place to work and to promote their company. Employers may also be interested in the Hospital Leaders Forum on September 11th 2013, or the First Nigeria E-Health Summit on September 12th (separate fees would be required).

For job seekers, the job fair would provide a convenient way to apply to several companies and to get immediate interviews. It would also enable job seekers to scope-out several employers and to gather company and career information from a wide range of companies, while benefiting from the career-building sessions. The WAH expo also has several accredited professional development sessions for physicians, nurses and midwives, laboratory scientists and radiographers, which may be helpful in maintaining a professional licenses (fees would be required).
